5 TJC Instructors Elected To TJCTA

Five TJC instructors were elected to offices at the state convention of Texas Junior College Teachers Association in Fort Worth Saturday. Dean E. M. Potter was officially named to the member of the commission of the association of Texas Colleges.

Miss Mabel Williams was elected chairman of the math section; Mrs. Averille Greenhaw, vice-chairman of home economics; Mrs. Frances Flaherty, secretary of business; Mrs. Mary Wallace, recorder of Guidance; and Jack Betts, associate chairman if engineering drawing.

Dean E. M. Potter, appointee of the last year's meeting in Dallas, was officially elected to represent public junior colleges in a new commission, Corporation in Higher Education.

From a membership of 1,000, 604 junior college instructors from over the state attended the TJCTA, the largest attendance in history.

All TJC instructors who attended agree that Friday and Saturday were two "unusually worthwhile days."

Mrs. Wallace said it was "one of the best we've ever had — it gets better every year."

From Miss Williams: "Any number of teachers said the two math sections were the best they have had in some time.

"The programs consisted of talks on topics of great interest to all junior college math instructors. Each talk was followed by a discussion," she said.

6 Speech Students Audition For Play

Six speech students have auditioned for parts in "A Sleep Of Prisoners," according to Dr. Jeane Browne, speech instructor.

Joe Garrison, Fred Watkins, Richard Boudreaux, Lucky Watkins, Ronny Palmer, and Earl Slayter tried for the four parts.

Stage manager will be David Ward; book prompter, Glenda Odom; and props and costumes Charlotte Bingham.

Four of the six who auditioned will be selected as first players and two will be the understudies.

The characters in the play are Pvt. David King, Pvt. Peter Able, Cpl. Joseph Adams, and Jvt. Tim Meadows.

"A Sleep Of Prisoners," a one act play by Christopher Fry, is a religious drama.

The play will be produced for a student assembly the last of April, Dr. Browne said.

College Phones Get New Numbers

Telephone numbers at the college in the 48000 level have been changed.

The business manager's office phone number has been changed from LY 4-8022 to LY 3-9022. Also Dean E. M. Potter's home phone has been changed from LY 4-8174 to LY 3-9174.

Reason for the change, according to a spokesman from the telephone company, is that Winona and Camp Fannin will be taken in on the dial system starting March 15.

Previously a call to Winona or Camp Fannin was on a pay basis.

The spokesman said the company needed all numbers of the 48000 level changed to the 39000 level.

The new telephone directory will be out on or before March 16.

The company reported 39,000 new directories printed for the Tyler rural and city area.

DALLAS LEADS

50 Students Sign For 2 Dormitories

Around 50 students have applied for and been accepted to date for residents in the men's and women's new dormitories, according to registrar Edwin Fowler. Girls from Dallas and boys from Terrell lead the list in towns represented.

With the dormitories not yet completed but already half full for next September, Fowler said it was just a matter of other out-of-town students knowing about them before they would be filled.

President H. E. Jenkins said applications would continue to be taken until the 100-student-capacity dormitories were filled. Applications are made through the administrative office of the college. A $10 non-refundable deposit is necessary to confirm residence, Dr. Jenkins said.

Both dormitories, officially named the Men's Residence Hall and the Women's Residence Hall, will open for occupancy September 1 at 9 a.m., according to the president.

The two dorms are of similar design, accommodating two students to each modernly furnished room. A connecting bath will serve every two rooms. Both buildings are air-conditioned throughout.

All dorm students will take their meals in a new air-conditioned cafeteria to be located where the athletic dining hall now is. The new cafeteria will be equipped to accommodate 150 persons at once, according to Dr. Jenkins.

Room and board in the residence halls will be $60 a month. Dr. Jenkins said an out-of-town student who contemplated staying in one of the new halls could accurately total his college year's expenses for room, board, and tuition at $640-$660.

Among the girls whose applications have been accepted are:

Wanda Gail Exum, Pecos; Mollye Annette Davis, Throckmorton; Laurel Helen MacPherson, Maine; Kathleen Denise Croly, Richardson; Jeri La Ruth Holstro, Palestine; Lu Alice Canterbury, Houston; Patsy Gail Neill, Fruitville; Virginia Ann Roark, Duncanville; Wand Lanelle Holmes, Timpson.

Also Patsy Jean Scott, Jacksonville; Synthia Louise Vorn, Franklin; Linda Louise Freeman, Garland; Darla Rea DeFoor, Mexia; Rosanne Poer, Fort Worth.

From Dallas: Rosemary Jean Benson, Sandra Lee Red, Margo Eugenia Rook, Linda Ann Pigman, Barbara Ellen Duncan, Jarette Kay Taylor.

Some of the boys who have established residence for next September are:

Don Richard Taylor, Bossier City; Delmer Gene Weaver, Pittsburg; Joe McDodd Jr., Terrell; Kenneth Lee Drost, Terrell; Tony Novak, Dallas; Wayne Edward King, Texas City; Kenny Hankins Bradley, Texas City.

Robert Wilkins Holton III, Terrell; George William Johnson, Frisco; Farrokh Tamimi Tehran, Iran; John Gregory De Zongotitu, Texas City; Jerry Clinton Hanson, Palestine; Wilbur Eugene Arto, San Mateo, Calif.; Tommy K. Martin, Texas City.

Also Joe Newman Peters, Greenville; Robert C. Cooke, Dallas; Lance B. Keys, Mexia; Robert L. Melleauer Jr. Timpson; Ronald J. McGee, Waco; Robert E. Fisher, Mexia; and William Joe Reeves, Fort Worth.

Missionary Will Visit Campus March 16-17

Miss Nancy Blake, missionary to North Africa will visit the campus Monday and Tuesday March 16-17, according to the Reverend Arthur Pry, director of the Methodist Bible Chair.

She will speak on the world mission of the church at the Methodist Student Center Monday night at 7 p.m.

Personal conferences with Miss Blake during her visit may be arranged through the Reverend Pry. These interviews are exploratory conversations, according to Pry.

Miss Blake has just returned from three years of service as a special-term missionary in North Africa.

She first served at Fort National, a rural mountain station in Algeria. There she directed group activities for girls and women, visited in the villages, and taught a boys Sunday School Class at the station.

She later served in the city of Algiers where she developed a playground for children and directed recreational program and group activities for children.

The purpose of Miss Blakes' visit is "to present the challenge of the world mission of the church and the students' involvement in it, to provide information about the missionary movement of today, to help students think through their own vocational responsibilities, and to enlist personnel for missionary jobs at home and abroad."

Dr. H. E. Jenkins Attends 3 National Conventions

President H. E. Jenkins is participating in the national four-day meeting, March 10-13, of the American Association of Junior Colleges in Long Beach, Calif. This is one of the three conferences of national importance President Jenkins has attended within a week.

Others were the National Commission on Accrediting in Chicago, March 6-7, and the Presidents' Conference of Financing Higher Education, Long Beach, March 9-10.

Dr. Jenkins is on the program of the American Association of Junior Colleges now in progress. He said he would discuss the advantages and disadvantages of a district type college.

The meeting, he said, would be devoted to a discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of the various types of junior colleges in America: county, district, part of the public school system, and any others in existence.

The first of the three meetings Dr. Jenkins attended, the National Comission on Accrediting, was composed of senior and junior college presidents. Dr. Jenkins is a commissioner of the organization and is one of five junior college presidents in the nation on the commission.

Seventy - five junior college presidents across the nation attended the March 9-10 meeting on financing higher education. Dr. Jenkins said the 75 came by invitation of the Council of Financing Higher Education.

Mrs. Stokes Is Dorm Director

Mrs. Ethel Stokes, assistant librarian, will be director of the women's Residence Hall, the first women's dormitory.

Mrs. Stokes will give up her librarian's job when she assumes directorship.

"Being dorm director will be a 24-hour job," she said. "I'll miss seeing all the students in the library, although, of course, I will see some of them from time to time."

Mrs. Stokes has been assistant librarian for three years. She worked in the cafeteria which was opened for a few weeks in a previous year.

Mrs. Stokes visited San Angelo Junior College recently to observe the actions of the house director there.

"I helped check the girls in the nights I was there. All the women were very helpful in teaching me things I will have to know," Mrs. Stokes said.

Although she has had no previous experience as a dorm director, she has had experience as a mother. She has a daughter, Harriet, 20, who is a geology major here.

Mrs. Stokes will live in the dorm with the girls. Her quarters include a room, kitchenette, and bath.

"It is very nice," she said of her new home.

VIOLATORS CHARGED 25c

Dress Western Style, Says Sheriff, Or 'Go To Jail'

By CAROLYN McWILLIAMS

Students have a new excuse for being late to class this week—it goes something like this:

"Sorry I was late but I couldn't get the sheriff to let me out of jail."

With Western Week in full swing, Sheriff George Sipper and his "desperado deputies" are out to rid the campus of the "tinhorns who refuse to wear western clothes."

Anyone who doubts the ability of Western Week to increase student pep should be in the Teepee at activity period. It isn't everyday one can find sophomores clicking their heels to a lively "Virginia Reel."

The fraternity is "not sponsoring Western Week to disrupt classes, so we intend to see that nothing happens that will reflect on our organization," Sipper said.

"Persons put in jail for not dressing in western clothes will be fined 25 cents," Sipper said.

The annual Western Week dance will be held in Gentry Gym Saturday night at 7:30. The Bernard Harris dance band will play, Sipper said.

Decorations will follow the western theme, according to Sipper, "with bales of hay and hitching posts."

The 8x8 foot jail, located outside the Teepee throughout the week, will be moved to the gym before Saturday night "for pictures to be taken at the dance," Sipper added.

Herb Richardson HeadsMen'sDorm

Coach Herb Richardson has been appointed director of the Men's Residence Hall which will be opened Sept. 1.

President H. E. Jenkins, who announced Richardson's appointment, said Richardson's duties would concern the supervision of the boys in the 54-capacity dorm.

Richardson said he and his family would move to the director's headquarters in the new dorm around the first of September.

"Besides the extra money that the job would bring, I will be living directly across the street from the gym where most of my work is done," said Richardson.

Assistant basketball coach at TJC and PE instructor for the last three years, Richardson has had a long-time connection with the college.

He was a student here in 1948 and '49 where he was an All-American member of the Apache basketball team. After graduation from TJC, Richardson graduated from the University of Houston on a basketball scholarship.

Yearbook Staff Orders Extra Student Copies

A few extra yearbooks will be available for those who had a last chance but didn't take it, according to staff member, Jim Bailey.

Bailey said the staff decided to take a chance themselves and order these extra copies for those who will wish for one when yearbook signing begins.

Extras will sell on a first-come basis, Bailey and yearbook sponsor Mrs. Averille Greenhaw said. Deposits will be taken until April 15.

Alan Waghalter, Patty Presswood, Carl Welch, Bailey, and Mrs. Greenhaw are taking deposits.

Yearbooks will be ready for student distribution sometime between April 15 and the first of May, according to Mrs. Greenhaw.

Individual class pictures used in the yearbook will be free to their owners if they have purchased a yearbook, she said.

The inclusion of all day college student pictures will make this the biggest yearbook ever published here, "twice as many class pictures as ever before.

"Prettier we think, too—more art, work, unusual features which we are keeping as a surprise," she said.

AVERAGE 10 HOURS WEEKLY

Majority Study In Library

By TRUMAN MIZZLES

Ten students polled at random spend on the average of ten hours a week in the library.

Four of the 10 said they did most of their studying at home. The consensus of the other seven were that they used the library for "real concentration and study."

Eight said they used their time for study in the library, while two said they used as much time reading magazines and newspapers as they did studying.

Subjects they studied most were English and history.

Students who study in the library for real concentration:

Terry Hines: "I study about 15 hours a week in the library. Sinc I can concentrate there, I can d my work more efficiently an faster."

Ronnie R. Fowler: "I spend about eight hours a week in the library studying American history and English. I find it easier to concentrate on my subjects in the library."

Kay Dodd: "Since I am a business major, I use my spare time typing. I like to use the library to review my subjects. It has a pleasing atmosphere."

Martha Porter: "I study in the library about 15 hours a week. When I get home, I am always too tired to do my lessons."

Bobby Knight: "I spend most of my time studying French and physics while I am in the library. Although I do about half of my studying in the library and half of it at home, I study best while in the library."

Doran Dennis: "I study a good bit at the Bible Chair but always use the library for real concentration."

Students who do most of their studying at home:

Lanny Money: "I find it easier to concentrate on my studies in my apartment. I spend most time on English."

Joan Carroll: "I do not stud in the library. I do my studying at home."

Ja Nell Hanna: "I do most of my research work and light reading while I am in the library. I find it difficult to concentrate because of interferences. I study my harder subjects that require more concentration at home."

Charles Harvin: "I usually spend most of my time in the library studying biology and copying the daily notes over. I do most of my studying at home because I do not have time to study all my subjects while in the library."

Potter, Fowler Visit Senior High Schools To Announce New Dorms

Dean E. M. Potter and Registrar Eddie Fowler separately visited high schools in Texas and Louisiana recently in an effort to acquaint high school seniors with TJC's new dorms.

Dr. Potter talked with students at Sherman, Denison, McKinney, Greenville, Dallas, and Fort Worth.

Fowler's two-week trip included Louisiana high schools in Shreveport, Bossier City, Mansfield, and Winfield as well as Marshall, Cliburn, Wascom, and Hallsville.

"We have not been known as a dormitory college," Dr. Potter said, "so these trips are to tell students that they may now live on the TJC campus. They are a part of our public relations program.

"We expect both dorms to be reserved long before the end of this semester. Reservations are coming in fast," Dr. Potter said.

Students now enrolled who want to live in the dorms next semester should apply immediately, according to Dr. Potter.

"The total basic cost—board, room, tuition—for a year at TJC is $660," Dr. Potter said.

"The average cost for other state schools is $1,500 and that for private or church-related schools is over $2,000 per year."

Besides telling the seniors about the new dorm facilities Dr. Potter and Fowler are counseling them concerning subjects, degree plans, campus activities and other subjects the seniors want to know about TJC.

PRE-MED STUDENT

Garrison Contributes Poem

The following poem is a contribution of Joe T. Garrison, pre-med student.

Garrison, who has taken four years of study in the field of drama at Baylor University, has had some of his poems and musical lyrics published at Baylor. Garrison will receive his degree from Baylor University in August.

We see from within the without of ourselves,
And from without we guess the within.
We ponder the things simple
And simply overlook the things ponderable.
Forgetting the present, we make much to do of the past.
And we travel . . . Ah yes! We "travel."
What a worhy word for roaming
Here and there over the face of the earth,
Seeing things that before, we'd only heard about,
And hearing, pictured in our minds
A rapture that was to be
The answer for all life's woes.
Then down in the dusty dent of things,
In the mud-on-our-shoes-
Don't-walk-across-the-carpet, go-barefoot-
What-shall-I-wear rush of things,
There in the everyday sun we find ourselves,
But are not satisfied.
And again, looking in without ourselves,
We leave ourselves behind and rush on to find
A grain of sand on an ocean floor

Browne Announces Extra Speech Class

Extra curricular classes are being held in extemporaneous speaking and oration Thursday from 12:30 to 2:30 for those interested in attending, according to Dr. Jeane Browne, speech instructor.

Students who wish to attend these classes do not have to be enrolled in a speech course.

Participants prepare one or two speeches on current events. They make the speeches before the class. Other members of the class criticize.

Most of the topics on current events are taken from Time and Newsweek magazines.

Sue Mayfield Writes Thursday TJC Column

Sue Mayfield has replaced Mary Ann Seamon in writing the TJC news column for the Tyler-Courier Times each Thursday.

Mary Ann is now alternating with Ann Music as assistant editor of the Pow Wow.

Sue is a freshman journalism major from Wills Point. She is a member of the Apache Band.

Anyone having a news item is welcome to relay the news to Sue.

Journalism Classes Start Annual Race For Published Copy

The annual race for the most published inches has begun for members of the Pow Wow staff.

Larry Smith and Carolyn McWilliams, sophomore journalism majors, are team captains. The contest will run through the May issue.

Members of Smith's team are Ann Music, Sue Mayfield, Loretta McGehee, Henry Bowdoin, Sue Weldon, Tom Fullerton, Clyde Griffin, and Gale Merriweather

Members of Carolyn's team are Truman Mizzles, Lanny Money, Bettie Beaird, Rosalind Butler, Terry Swift, Mary Ann Seamon, Mike Danbom, and Howard Marsh.

Each inch of copy is valued at one point. The team accumulating the most points for the five remaining issues wins the contest.

Members will receive credit for inches published in other papers. Rewrites in other pages earn half the regular value.

The winning team makes all decisions for the annual party: where and when it will be, what will be served, who the guests are, and what the entertainment will be.

The losing team must agree with the decisions of the winners and in addition make preparation for the party. This includes shopping for necessary food supplies, cooking the meal to the winners tastes, and serving it.

Apache Choir To Entertain At CC Banquet March 20

The Singing Apaches will entertain at the Tyler Chamber of Commerce banquet March 20 at the American Legion Hall.

Gilbert Reeves will assume the presidency of the organization at the banquet, according to Phil Dibert of the Chamber of Commerce. Reeves replaces Jake Patton. Other new officers will also be installed, Dibert said.

Two awards will be made at the banquet. The W. C. Windsor Award will be presented to the most outstanding young man of Tyler, and the T. B. Butler Award will be presented to the most outstanding man of Tyler, Dibert said.

Dinner music for the banquet will be furnished by Mrs. Corelia White on the Hammond Organ.

Principal speaker for the meeting will be a nationally known figure, according to Dibert.

The choir is also planning a spring concert tour as well as a public concert here in Tyler, said John Hunter, director of the Singing Apaches. The tour will include performances in Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, and San Antonio.

Definite dates for the tour performances and the Tyler concert have not been set, however, Hunter said the concert would probably be in the latter part of April.

ON 45-DAY TOUR

Grier Interprets For Ecuador Visitor

By LORETTA McGEHEE

The experiences of a tour guide are interesting and varied, Paul Grier, language instructor, learned when he served as a guide and an interpreter for Justino Cornejo of Guayaquil, Ecuador, on a 45-day tour of points of interest in the United States.

Cornejo, professor of Spanish and editor of El Telegrafo, came to the United States by invitation of the State Department during the summer of 1957.

Grier found himself in varied situations — in the home of a wealthy Boston doctor, the only white person in a Negro cafe, and being photographed with Ex-president Harry Truman.

In Boston, they had "afternoon tea" in the home of a wealthy doctor where members of the family were capable of speaking to visitors in either French or Spanish as well as in English.

"Boston seemed to be steeped in culture," Grier recalled.

Since Cornejo is interested in race relations, they visited the Jet Publishing House. They had lunch in a Negro cafe where Grier said "For the first time I ate where I was the only white person."

Talks With Ex-President

Cornejo wanted to see a typical small town. For this, they went to Independence, Mo. They were highly entertained, Grier said. They spoke briefly with Ex-president Truman and were photographed with him.

In California, Grier and Cornejo met with a Korean who was also in the United States by invitation of the State Department. Grier said they ate in a Chinese restaurant where the 'Korean ordered raw fish but we didn't have any."

They went to a concert and attended church at a Presbyterian church. The Korean was Presbyterian.

While in California, they toured the movie lots of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Cornejo was interested in the windmill for his own country's use and sought what information he could find on it.

Cornejo Greets Old Friend

In Albuquerque, Cornejo met an old friend in the doorway of a museum whom he had not seen for 20 years. Grier and the old friend were momentarily stunned as Cornejo recognized him.

Cornejo's friend took them to his home adorned with original 17th Century oil paintings and other treasures.

Other points of interest in the tour included a news conference scheduled by the State Department in Washington, D. C. to which Secretary of State Dulles came. On this particular day, Dulles announced the resignation of the Secretary of Treasury.

In Philadelphia, they went to Poor Richard's Club, a famous newspaper advertiser's club. Here, they also heard a concert given by Italians, Negroes, and whites of a community school in the poorer section of town, Grier said.

Crosses Canadian Border

At Niagara Falls, they walked across the bridge into Canada for a couple of hours. Grier had to get special permission to take Cornejo across the border since he was a foreigner.

As students of history and government know, citizens of the United States may cross freely without permission.

In Detroit, they saw the Ford motor plant and had lunch there.

Cornejo visited with a friend who was professor of Spanish at Michigan State University.

Since Cornejo is an editor and interested in newspapers, they visited newspaper offices in Chicago and Philadelphia.

Tour Ends At New Orleans

From Santa Fe, where they saw the inevitable Indians and Indian relics, they went to New Orleans where Grier was relieved as Cornejo's guide. Grier returned to his home in Newberry N. C. for a two-day visit before he was to leave for another tour as a guide to Mexico.

Grier said that working as a tour guide helped him to learn facts first hand about other countries and people.

Wanted: Ten Gallon Hats

Participation is better this Western Week than it was last year, but there are still a number of persons—students and faculty—unwilling to cooperate.

Some are refusing to dress in western attire "because it's undignified." Some faculty members hesitate because all the faculty will not cooperate.

Actually, Western Week acts as a morale-builder on the campus. It fills the gap in spring semester activities between the end of basketball season and preparation time for final exams.

Students look forward to the week they can let their hair down, wear levis and boots, and pack those six-shooter cap pistols. For five days, they can revert to their carefree days of childhood without fear of an accusing finger pointing them out, and of someone telling them to "act your age."

Faculty members are not asked to show up in jodpurs and spurs, but a cowboy hat here and there, and maybe a string tie or two would encourage fuller student participation.

Sort of a "if you can't beat 'em, Join 'em" attitude.

Prizes are being offered by Kappa Sigma Lambda men's fraternity, sponsor of this week, for the longest and most original beards.

Not every man will grow a beard, of course, but there are other contests in connection with Western Week. Daily winners are being named for the best-dressed western style boy and girl on the campus, and a trophy will be awarded to the best western-dressed couple at Saturday night's dance.

So come on—drag out that old faded pair of levis and ten-gallon hat and help make the Reservation look the part of Old West-come-to-town.

Look Them Over Now

Election of student body officers is still a few weeks away, but selection of candidates for those offices is now.

The search for the right candidate is your resonsibility and mine.

Choosing qualified candidates is not only the preliminary step in a successful campaign, but it is the most important part of any election. If you fail in helping to select a candidate, you forfeit the greater part of your voting privilege.

Look over the 500 freshmen to find what you would consider qualified candidate material for president, vice-president, and secretary of the student body.

Encourage those persons to run for office. Though they may be well qualified, they may need a nudge to muster the courage to jump into campus politics.

Select your candidate and follow him through the campaign.

Voting will then be the fulfillment of Webster's definition of the word, "an ardent wish"—not merely scratching names on the ballot.

Published Lab Papers

How would you like all your physics or biology lab papers compiled and published every two weeks?

That is exactly the position of the beginning journalism student.

Lab students in other courses can conceal their low grades; journalism students must publish theirs. They seek to correct their work to make it publishable. But publishable does not mean perfection. The Pow Wow is evidence of the journalism student's efforts—the best work he can do as a beginning student.

Since journalism students know their work will be published, they are aware of a public responsibility—a responsibility other students do not have. But although they recognize this responsibility, there will still be errors because they are beginners.

A lab is a place to learn; the journalism lab is no exception. Projects and papers turned in are products of that learning, and just as physics, biology, or language students do not have perfect lab scores, neither do journalism students.

If lab students were able to do perfect work, there would be no need in their meeting labs. But journalism students, like all other students in junior college, are merely that —students—trying, hoping to learn.

Staff members welcome, even urge, readers' comments and criticism, for they realize that only by recognizing their errors and correcting them can they learn.

They do not ask acceptance of their errors, but they do ask for understanding.—M. McW.

John Hunter served as clinician at an annual meeting of 20 high school choral groups in Galveston last weekend. The meeting was held at Ball High School.

This week has converted even some of the faculty members into characters of the West. Then Reverend Leo Rudd re-lives the rugged life of the frontier parson this week with his black derby and moustache.

Francis Haley, geology instructor, has homework besides grading papers. He is taking three geography courses. He is enrolled in Thomas G. Robinson's geography class here, a graduate course at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, and a correspondence course from the University of Wisconsin.

Herman Crow visited his sister in Fort Worth Friday night and attended the Texas Junior College Teachers Association Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mills recently attended a performance of the Ballet Rouse De Monte Carlo in Houston. The performance included the "Swan Lake" and "Nutcrackers Suite."

The nutritions class taught by Mrs. Averille Greenhaw recently visited the Ideal Bakery to observe the processes of bread making.

The nutritions class is composed of 44 students, the largest number of students enrolled in a nutritions class here. It is composed of professional nursing students and T.B. technician students.

The class learns to prepare food in labs "because as nurses they will have to prepare special diets for patients," said Mrs. Greenhaw.

Laff Time

An expectant mother, elevator-bound to the maternity ward in the hospital was startled to hear the operator murmur:

"Second floor — broken bones, ingrown toenails, pretty nurses."

The third floor brought a low recitation of "Operations, plain and fancy, clean beds, costly doctors" and the fourth, "bandages, sprains, rheumatism and lumbago."

She strained her ears to hear how her destination was announced.

It was simple: "Fifth floor — American Production Company."

To Dr. H. E. Jenkins:

Leaves Of Gold! What a delightful surprise and how I have already pored over it. It was a pleasure to have been of assistance in the Senior Sponsors Section. Dr. Murphy was his usual best self. Just not enough time to cover all points of interest. But our minds were stimulated and it was good to meet counselors and sponsors from other schools.

Please accept my thanks for your thoughtfulness. I am already looking forward to next year.

Sincerely yours,

To the Junior College:

The members of the senior class of Grand Saline High School wish to express their appreciation to Tyler Junior College for inviting us to participate in Career Day. It was both informative and enjoyable.

Sincerely,
Barbara Alexander

To the Student Body:

It's the last time around for a lot of us this semester. Let's make a big push to make good grades, and let's have a good time and lots of good activities to remember ole TJC by.

The freshman class did a fine job as host for the Valentine Dance. Charles Harvin, Glenda Matthews, Kay Rodieck, and their various committees are to be commended. I hope our other spring social activities can be as successful.

Career Day was thoroughly enjoyed by our guests — the high school seniors of this area. We certainly appreciate the way our students entered in to make this day a success.

Thanks to Larry Smith — our campus basketball tournament went over big. The student council hopes that campus athletics will continue year after year in the enthusiastic spirit displayed this year.

We take this opportunity to express our appreciation to Ronny Johnston, Lon Morris Student Body president, and his students who presented the assembly program in Wise Auditorium, March 2. Everyone seemed to enjoy this program.

I believe a closer association and more sharing of ideas and talents among junior colleges would be of great advantage to all the junior colleges in this area. Let's hope the exchange of assemblies with Lon Morris can be the beginning of such association.

Freddie Head
President of Student body.

To The Pow Wow Staff:

The "Career Day" (Feb. 11) issue of the TJC Pow Wow was a "humdinger." The stories were well written and one could tell that a lot of work was spent on it.

It's always a treat to read a TJC Pow Wow but it's an extra treat when you're away from home, especially when you're visiting "Uncle Samuel."

I was more than pleased to hear about the expansions that are being made at TJC. I know all of you are proud of the TJC Pow Wow and it's part in the advancement of Tyler Junior College.

Keep the good work up because you, as well as myself, will always be proud of the work that you did on the "greatest junior college paper in the nation."

Sincerely yours,
James Powell

Dear Mrs. Gates:

PHI THETA KAPPA

Informal Initiation Held For 26 Pledges Thursday

Four days of speculation ended last Thursday night for 26 Phi Theta Kappa pledges who were informally initiated in the national honorary society.

Pledges' fears mounted after the posting of a list of articles to be worn or brought to the initiation ceremony. These articles included cold, cooked oat meal, whipped cream, meringue pies, liquid rouge, face powder, and milk.

Girls were required to wear men's hats, and boots or tennis shoes to the initiation. Boys wore women's hats and carried purses.

After initiation stunts Jeanne Lawhorn told pledges receiving their blue and gold pledge pins "to wear them proudly as marks of your high scholastic and sportsmanship standards."

A special initiation is planned for four pledges who were not present at the Thursday night ceremony, according to Floyd Stoddard, faculty sponsor.

Pledges who were informally initiated Thursday night were La Nelle Barron, Diana Beighle, Barbara Brown, Merlon Carter, June Cash, Nancy Cook, Jane Edwards, Johnny Kennedy, Jeanne Lancaster, Glenda Matthews, Dolores McCorkle, Gailia Moon, Virginia Morgan, Sandra Parker, Charles Price, Mary Ann Seamon, James Sullivan, Kay Tomlin, Larry Walker.

Also Kay Rodieck, Myra Lee Boone, Cleveland Gilley, Jimmy Hodge, Bernard Lukenbill, Carolyn McWilliams, and Jimmy Bogan.

Students who were not initiated Thursday night are Damon McCauley, Sandra Rogers, Bob Sullivan, and Donna Cox.

Paris Cops Regional; Kilgore Trips Tyler

Paris Junior College was crowned the 1959 Regional XIV Champions and the right to represent this region in the National Junior College Athletic Association tournament in Hutchinson, Kan., beginning March 16.

The Dragons pulled two of the top upsets in the county to win their first regional title and make their first trip to the national tourney.

There have been five national champions from Region XIV since the beginning of the tournament. Tyler and Kilgore have won twice and Wharton has won once.

Since 1949, the Apaches have made six trips to the national meet, Lon Morris and Kilgore have gone twice, and Wharton has gone once.

Team Results

The Regional Tournament site went to Henderson County Junior College with Lon Morris and Kilgore tabbed as the two teams to fight it out for the championship. The Bearcats were the number one team in the nation and had a season record of 26-5. The Rangers, defending regional and national champs, were the third-ranked team in the nation, and were 20-5 for the year.

Paris, 20-5 for the season and number nine in the polls, was held to a 32-30 lead at half-time in their clash with Allen Academy, but pulled away in the final two periods for a 72-42 win.

Lon Morris won their ninth straight opening day win with a 93-63 triumph over Navarro to go into the semi-finals against the Dragons.

TJC won over Henderson County, 75-65 and Kilgore edged South Texas, 69-60, in the other first round games.

Paris and Lon Morris battled to eight ties and exchanged lead 10 different times in their semi-final clash before the Dragons upset the Bearcats, 47-45. Paris won the game in the final 10 seconds of the game.

TJC held Kilgore scoreless for the first five minutes of the game before falling to the arch-rivals, 74-63. The Rangers built up an 36-28 half time lead, but the Apaches pulled within two points of the Rangers, 44-42, in the final half.

The Dragons then pulled their second upset of the tournament by slipping past the Kilgore five, 62-61 for the championship. Kilgore held at 32-30 half time lead. Paris went ahead with 30 seconds left on the clock, then stalled the final 10 seconds of the game for the victory.

The two leading scorers for Paris during the three-day meet were Jim Culpepper with 35 points, and Wayne Annett with 34.

The Stanley Twins, Don and Pat, paced the Rangers with Don hitting for 53 points and brother Pat following with 50.

Jim Whalen and John Toole led the Apaches with 35 and 32 points respectively. Kent McGaughey and Bob Braly each hit for 22 points to lead the scoring for Lon Morris.

The All-Tournament team was selected by sports writers. Those named to the honor squad include the Stanley Twins and Jack Thompson, Kilgore; Oscar Williams and Toole, Tyler; Dempsey Moore, South Texas; Annett, Culpepper, and Lee Mires, Paris; and Upton Lackey of Navarro.

ALL - TOURNAMENT — John Toole, 6'4" sophomore center for the Apaches from Troup, was named to the Regional XIV All-Tournament team. Oscar Williams, whose picture was not available, was also selected for the team. Williams is a sophomore guard from Big Sandy.

Honors Announced For College Meet

Winners of the all-tournament team, best sportsmanship team, best sportsmanship player, and best dressed team in the college championship tourney were announced this week, according to Larry Smith, chairman of campus activities.

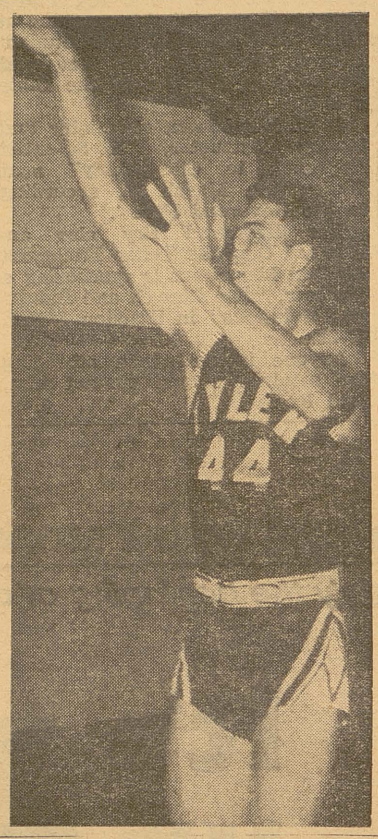
Those named to the All-Tournament team include Duayne Freeman, Tyler; Art Fiste, Independents; Mutt Wallace, Concord; Robert Wyman, Beta Upslion Sigma; Leonard Murphy, Troup; and Derrell Dolenger, Drafting Club.

Beta Upslion Sigma won the best sportsmanship team award, as well as the best dressed team award.

Fiste was voted as the best sportsmanship player during the tournament.

The Independents won the championship, with Concord the runner-up. Troup was declared consolation champ with Beta Upsloin Sigma being the finalist.

Trophies for the tournament will be awarded Honors Day in Wise Auditorium.



Independents Win; Defeat Concord 51-40

The Independents were crowned college champions after winning the first annual Tyler Junior College Championship basketball tournament held in Gentry Gym last week.

The team, who defeated Concord 51-40 for the title, is composed of Johnny Messer, Art Fiste, Charles Harvin, Tommy Bartley, Alvin Harris, Dale Long, and Merlin Carter.

Troup won the Consolidation Championship with a 41-30 victory over Beta Upsilon Sigma in the finals. The loss was the worst suffered by BUS in a single game. Preceding the clash, they had not lost a game by more than four points.

The four-day tournament opened with Tyler upsetting Beta Upslion Sigma 40-36. Duayne Freeman scored 18 points for Tyler and Robert Wyman hit for 21 for BUS.

The Student Council fell victim to the Independents, 81-42, in the other game. Fiste led the scoring for the Independents with 26 points and Sammy Langley scored 22 points for the Council.

In the other first round game, the Drafting Club bumped off the tournament co-favorite, Troup, 53-49.

Cline led the Drafting Club with 14 points, while Howard Adams scored 18 to pace Troup.

Concord defeated Tyler in a 40-39 thriller to open second-round play. Mutt Wallace hit for 12 points for Concord and Freeman scored 12 for Tyler.

The Independents edged the Drafting Club in the championship semi-finals, 48-46. Fiste once again paced the winners with 24 points and Dolenger pumped in 17 points for the loosers.

In the consolidation semi-finals, the Student Council forfeited to Troup.

In the championship finals, Fiste was the high scorer for the Independents, hitting for 17 points. Wallace scored 28 for Concord.

The Independents held a 28-22 half-time lead after Concord missed a chance to pull within three points on a last second lay-up shot. In the second half, Concord managed to pull within two points of the Independents, but could never get that spark to go ahead.

Troup, in winning the consolation title, rushed to a surprising easy first half lead, then fought off a last half rally to hand Beta Upslion Sigma the defeat.

Attendance for the games was very good, according to Larry Smith, chairman of campus activities.

"Interest was very high," he said, "and plans are now being made to make this an annual affair at TJC."

15TH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

PJC Represents Region XIV In NJCAA Meet At Kansas

The 15th annual National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament will begin March 17 and will continue through March 21 in Hutchinson, Kan.

Paris Junior College is the fifth Regional XIV entry from Texas to attend the tournament. Others who have attended include Tyler, Kilgore, Lon Morris and Wharton County.

The first annual NJCAA tournament was held in Compton, Calif. in 1945 with Pasadena Junior College winning the title.

Another California school, Sacramento, won the 1946 cage title and the following year, Compton Junior College of the West Coast was crowned National Champions.

In 1948, the site of the tournament was changed to Springfield, Mo. where Marlin College of Kenfield, Calif. won the champion's role. TJC placed sixth in the meet.

The following year, the tournament once again changed, this time to Hutchinson, Kan. where it has been held ever since. The Apaches walked off with the 1949 National Championship trophy after defeating Hutchinson Junior College in the finals.

Los Angeles Junior College was the winner in 1950 by defeating Northeast, Miss for the title. Tyler placed fourth in the tourney.

The Apaches won their second national championship in 1951 with a victory over Northeast, Miss. in the meet finals.

Texas once again received the championship trophy the following year when the Wharton County Pioneers were declared National Champs. They defeated Hibbing Junior College of Minnesota.

The 1953 tournament finals was a battle of the Kansas teams. The Grizzles of El Dorado defeated Arkansas City for the title. The Lon Morris Bearcats were fifth place winners.

Moberly's Greyhounds of Missouri were the 1954 champions having defeated Snow College of Ephriam, Utah for the title. Lon Morris finished sixth.

A Missouri battle occurred in the 1955 tournament with Moberly and Hannibal playing for the title. Moberly won the game in two overtime to win the championship. TJC placed eighth in the national meet.

Kilgore Junior College won the National Championship in 1956 with their win over Hannibal-LaGrange, Mo. in the finals.

The Apaches entered the National Tournament once again in 1957, but had to settle for tenth place. San Angelo Junior College won the national title with their victory over Eastern Arizona.

The Rangers from Kilgore won their second national crown last year, as they won from Weber of Ogden, Utah in the tourney finals.

I WAS A PLEDGE ONCE — Jerry Hunt of Van, member of Kappa Sigma Lambda men's fraternity, remembers as he prepares to wham Duayne Freeman of Tyler. Third from left is Aubrey Allen of Tyler, awaiting his right as a member to take up where Hunt leaves off. Pledges Michael Johnson and Jack Ridley, both of Tyler, intrepidly wait for their turn over the paddle. Other common sights around the campus this week are pledges dressed in beggar's clothing, hats, unmatched shoes, and carrying women's purses. Such pledge treatment will continue "through a week from this Friday night," according to one fraternity member.

Six Lambda Pledges Begin Final Week Of Initiation

"Only one more week to go."

This is the general feeling of six Kappa Sigma Lambda new members currently in their second week of initiation.

Pledges are Mickey Johnson, Duayne Freeman, Neil Wilkerson, Jack Ridley, Kenneth Hamner, and Vernon Glaspie, all of Tyler.

Last week, the pledges wore ladies' hats, hosiery, short pants, T-shirts, different shoes, a paddle around the neck and a plumber's friend. Each carried a purse which contained a pad with names and phone numbers of the Tokalons, a pencil and a box of at least 115 matches, all pointing in the same direction.

This week the pledges are wearing western clothes of any type in connection with Western Week.

Next week they must wear short pants, rope suspenders, ragged T-shirt, ragged straw hat. They must carry a woman's purse, a notebook, a fishing pole three feet long, a can of worms, a jar of jam, and shoes without socks if the weather is below 60 degrees, no shoes with a bandage tied around the right big toe if the weather is above 60 degrees.

The formal initiation will be March 20, according to George Sipper, president of the fraternity. "The place has not been selected," he added.

Sipper said they have some of the best pledges ever to come into Kappa Sigma Lambda. "They seem enthusiastic and willing to cooperate," he added.

Pena Explains Importance Of Surveyor's Field Notes

D. R. Pena described the TJC surveying and drafting program to approximately 30 students of the Drafting Club and members of the Tyler Association of Professional Draftsmen.

Pena, surveying instructor and retired professional surveyor, said, "Students enrolled in surveying and drafting learn the meaning of field notes of a surveyor from which the draftsmen can get adequate information to make a map as nearly correct as possible."

I. L. Friedman, director of distributive education and the evening college, gave the welcome and student Pete Martinez furnished the music.

A short business meeting following Pena's talk included a discussion of the National Association of Professional Draftsmen and the possibility of the Tyler Chapter joining it.

Students were also invited to join the Tyler Chapter of Professional Draftsmen and to attend a surveyor's meeting in Kilgore soon. Jack Betts discussed the activities of the professional draftsmen.

The group also toured the technical building which houses courses in radio-television, petroleum technology, mechanics, and drafting.

Pena gave some of the methods of drafting a map which are taught in the local program.

6. When arriving late for a party, are you inclined to join a group of close friends rather than attempting to strike up new acquaintances? YES ☐ NO ☐

7. If you met somebody with a beard, would you tend to consider him "off-beat" and treat him with reserve? YES ☐ NO ☐

8. Are you normally reluctant to go on a "blind date"? YES ☐ NO ☐

9. Do you base your choice of a cigarette on what people tell you rather than doing your own thinking? YES ☐ NO ☐

You'll notice that men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? They've made a thinking choice. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. They know that VICEROY gives it to them! A thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste!

If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions and "NO" to four out of the last five . . . you really think for yourself!

TJC Offers 4 Degrees To Spring Graduates

Tyler Junior College will offer four associate degrees to graduating sophomores this spring, according to Dean E. M. Potter. Two associate degrees have previously been offered.

Students who qualify may receive associate degrees in business administration, engineering, arts, and sciences.

This is the first year the college has offered associate degrees in business administration and in engineering.

Two-year business students will receive associate degrees in business administration. They have previously received associate in business degrees.

The regular BBA majors (four-year business students) will receive associated degrees in arts, Dr. Potter said.

They receive associate in arts degrees, Dr. Potter said, because they pursue an arts program the first two years. Accounting is their only business administration subject offered the first two years. After their required subjects are off, their schedule is then BBA for the two remaining years, he explained.

Engineering students receive associate in arts degrees because they also pursue an arts program the first two years.

Dr. Potter said medical tecnology students would earn associate of science degrees.

Those completing two years of professional drafting, radio-TV, surveying, and petroleum technology will earn associate degrees in engineering, Dr. Potter added.

The technology program, he explained, has just this year developed into an academic phase of the college. These students now include the required academic subjects such as government, English, American history in their two-year program.

Student NEA Elects Hanna President

Ja Nell Hanna, elementary education major from Van, is the new president of the Mary Wallace chapter of the National Education Association.

Ja Nell, who succeeds Jackie Vance, was elected at the last scheduled meeting of the chapter.

Other officers elected at the Feb. 24 meeting were Pat Krause of Winona, secretary; Carol Henson of Joinerville, treasurer; Suzan Sharp of Troup, parliamentarian; and Jane Edwards of Troup, historian.

The vice-president will be elected at the beginning of the fall term.

Ja Nell has hopes of teaching in an elementary school upon completion of her education. While a student at Van high, she was a member of the future teacher club for four years and president her senior year. Ja Nell was also a member of the band.

Other information at this meeting included Mrs. Mary Wallace's reading of a letter about the state convention at Houston, March 19-20.

Mrs. Wallace said plans are being made for six students to attend this convention: Ja Nell, Pat, Carolyn Sowell, Guinette Tell, Jackie Vance, and Doran Dennis.

The local NEA chapter consists of 37 paid members.

11 Representatives Attend Meeting

Nine instructors along with two official delegates, Dean E. M. Potter and Forest Griffin, director of vocational education, attended the joint convention of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association and the Texas Junior College Association in Fort Worth March 5-7.

Dr. Potter attended sessions in connection with the Texas Junior College Association which is an organization of junior college administrative officers. He met with the steering committee which planned the convention. This is his second year to serve on the committee.

A panel of TJC education majors discussed "Why I chose Teaching as a Profession." These panel members, under the direction of Mrs. Wallace, were Betty Campbell, Dorothy Ellis, Carolyn Sowell, and Jackie Vance.

Campbell Teaches Drill Team, PE At Catholic High

By MARY ANN SEAMON

Betty Campbell, elementary education major, divides her time between college and high school. She is on opposite sides of the desk, however.

Although she carries a full load at TJC, Betty teaches women's physical education at the new Catholic High School, instructing the 7, 8, 9, and 10th grade girls in vollyball and softball and directing the activities of the Crusaders, the Catholic High Drill team.

Betty's first undertaking in her role as drill team instructor was getting the drill team organized for the Santa Claus Parade last December.

"Since this was the first year of the high school, the drill team was not organized and the girls did not all know marching formations and signals," Betty said.

"We don't have a gym yet," Betty said, "so when weather did not permit our practicing outside, we simply moved into the corridors and practiced our marching there."

Betty also teaches the girls baton twirling and strutting as well as marching.

"I may decide to minor in physical education," Betty said, "because I enjoy my work at the high school so much." "I am really getting good experience," she said.

A sophomore, Betty is a cheerleader and member of the Singing Apaches whom she represented in the campus beauty contest.
